June, 2022 – Mississauga, ON, Canada

Axiomatic Technologies Corporation has released a dual 12 Vdc, 1.2A lithium-ion battery charger suited for use in harsh conditions.

The AX090690 unit charges two 12 Vdc, 1.2A lithium batteries. It has a typical efficiency rating of 89%. The battery charge status is communicated over CAN.

Protections on this IP67 rated unit include reverse voltage protection, surge protection, under- and over-voltage shutdown, short circuit and overcurrent protection, and thermal protection for overtemperature.

This battery charger is suitable for lithium-ion battery charging applications on vehicle CAN based systems, such as mining equipment, off-highway equipment, fire trucks, and municipal vehicles.
